

Hong Kong is a leading global commercial and financial centre, with world-class infrastructure, respected corporate, trust and pension scheme legislation, a comprehensive network of double taxation agreements and preferred trading status with China.

Why Hong Kong

- A leading international financial centre
- Experienced professional community
- A territorial tax system, which only taxes Hong Kong-sourced income
- Strong network of Double Taxation Agreements, providing clarity on taxation rights and obligations and allowing for lower withholding taxes and planning opportunities
- Tax efficient location for structuring investment into and trade with China
- The one country, two systems policy between China and Hong Kong ensures the rule of law is adhered to

Range of Structures

Hong Kong is a leading domicile for trading and investment companies. Close to 1,150,000 companies are registered in Hong Kong, with approximately one-third of these used in cross-border transactions.

The jurisdiction is also respected by professional advisors as an administrative centre for trusts established either in Hong Kong or in other jurisdictions.

Hong Kong has well-established corporate retirement scheme legislation and supervision and is an ideal location for the establishment and administration of international Group retirement schemes.
